Description

- Traditionally used herb
- Used for centuries in the East and West
- Each capsule contains 250mg powdered dandelion root
- Easy-swallow, rapid release capsule

Dandelion (taraxacum officinale), from the French, 'dents de lion' ("teeth of the lion") due to the edge of the leaves resembling jagged teeth, has been widely used in both Eastern and Western herbalism for centuries. It is an instantly recognisable plant common across the world, its bright yellow flowers common in grassland and meadows. It is often used in food, in teas, or in soft drinks such as dandelion and burdock.

Each Lindens Dandelion 250mg Capsule contains 250mg of whole Dandelion root in an easy swallow, rapid release capsule
